

I wish to be able to keep my present cellular phone number when I transfer over to another carrier. At present this is not permissible and I object to the present regulation. The phone number should be portable (the same as with landline phone numbers.)